

Nov 26, 2024 | CSC301 Product Meeting

Attendees:

Katarina, Jihyuk, Jeff

- Documentation is top of the list
- Static rendering is low priority
- Working on back to article bringing us all the way back to home page
- Data populating documentation
 - Is there documentation regarding Prisma? Client does not know how Prisma works and would like help in understanding how this works
 - Obtaining and refreshing data
 - Setting up local database documentation is also not too obvious, and would like more descriptions. Client COULD do it, but handing it over to the next people that work on it would be hard.
 - Deployment on Azure or others does not need to be documented well.
- What is the future of this code?
 - Figure out how we will be passing our project
 - Client would have liked a clearer timeline of project implementation
- Clean up repo
- Slugify pagination less important

Add documentation on:

- * improve local database set up instructions so a non-experienced user could do it.
- * instructions on how to setup and how to run database seeding.
- * link prisma documentation.
